Commercial Painting

We understand the necessity of project management on each commercial job. Our Health & Safety Officer completes a risk assessment, and commercial projects are managed by a senior Contracts Manager. We aim to minimise disruption to our client's businesses. Our clients can be assured of clear and direct communication, excellent attention to detail and fast resolution of problems if required.

Industrial:

We have experience as an industrial coatings contractor. We have completed intricate projects whilst maintaining rigidly safe systems of work. Our technical ability and expertise delivering specification requirements to manufacturing, warehousing, medical device, and clean room environments across Ireland.

Apartment Complexes:

We provide both roller painting options along with our state-of-the-art spray-painting service. Our spray painting quickly covers a large area and has become a favourite for apartment complex owners, thanks to its striking, smooth finish.

Schools & Public Buildings:

Delta Painting has worked on several schools, churches, and public buildings over the years. Where heavy people traffic and usage is considered a key factor in the materials being used, we research each project individually to ensure a successful outcome each time.

Heritage & Restoration:

Every heritage or restoration requires hours of careful preparatory work, research and sensitive restoration using traditional methods, skills and precise application of well-researched paints and wallpapers by our experienced team of craftsmen to ensure a quality result every time.

Floors & Special Purpose:

Delta Painting has completed a number of Resin based floor painting. This provides a seamless resistant & durable, easy-to-clean finish suitable for use in many areas, including industrial, commercial, and domestic applications. We work with our clients in determining the best Epoxy solution for them, depending on environment and usage. All Epoxy solutions bond well, giving the underlying concrete protection from oil, chemicals and more.

Painted Kitchen Cabinets

If you want to revitalise your kitchen, then get in contact with Delta Painting today. We offer clients a full kitchen cabinet painting service. Using our state-of-the-art spray painters, we finish all wooden cabinets with brilliantly smooth, high-quality paint.

We're available to advise clients on the right shade and colour of paint to compliment the interior aesthetic of their kitchen. Our service also extends to adding a base coat of paint to kitchen walls
